Ted Talks

John Hockenberry: We are all Designers (2012) 20 minutes: Journalist John Hockenberry tells a personal story inspired by a pair of flashy wheels in a wheel chair-parts catalog, and how they showed him the value of designing a life of intent. <http://bit.ly/TEDtlkDisabl>

WHAT IS AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT?

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) became law in 1990 prohibiting discrimination against individuals with disabilities in all areas of public life, including jobs, schools, transportation, and all public and private places. The purpose of the law is to make sure that people with disabilities have the same rights and opportunities as everyone else. The ADA gives civil rights protections to individuals with disabilities similar to those provided to individuals on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, age, and religion. It guarantees equal opportunity for individuals with disabilities in public accommodations, employment, transportation, state and local government services, and telecommunications.
